SPORTS MEDICINE SEMINAR
IS FRIDAY AT UNIVERSITY

MISSOULA--

The second annual Sports Medicine Seminar will be held Friday (Nov. 5) at the University of Montana.

The one-day program in the University Center is sponsored by the Montana High School Association, the Mountain States Regional Medical Program (MSRMP), the Montana Medical Education and Research Foundation and the Montana Medical Association.

John Breeden, Great Falls, planning coordinator for the MSRMP, said Friday's program is primarily for junior and senior high school coaches, trainers and administrators. Registration will be from 8:30-9 a.m. Friday in 360 A and B of the UC.

Morning sessions, which get under way at 9 o'clock, will feature a discussion entitled "Head Injuries: Prevention, Recognition and Care." Those scheduled to participate include Dr. Robert B. Curry, M.D., director of the UM Student Health Service; Dr. Charles J. Katz (pronounced Cots), M.D., director of the UMSHS mental health department; Marshall Cook, professor of physical education at Montana State University, Bozeman, and former trainer for the U.S. Pan-American Olympic Team, and Charles Karnop, head athletic trainer at MSU.

Cook will highlight discussions Friday afternoon with a talk entitled "Myths of Sports Medicine," which begins at 1 p.m. in the UC.

Other participants Friday afternoon will include Dr. Curry, who will discuss "Drugs and the Athlete" and "Uses of Medical Histories." Dr. Curry, Cook and Karnop will discuss "Wrestling Weight Losses."

Dr. Robert Yost, M.D., Missoula, is local coordinator for the Missoula program.

Follow-up Sports Medicine Seminars are scheduled in Great Falls Nov. 12 and in Billings Nov. 19.
